[Available from CIA Foreign Documents Division is a copy of a Russian-language Catalogue of Roller and Ball Bearings prepared by the Ministry of the Automobile Industry of the USSR in 1946 and published by Government Scientific Technical Publications, Moscow. This catalogue was prepared for the use of machine construction designers and was intended for use as a systematic reference book on roller and ball bearings. The catalogue deals with classification and markings of ball and roller bearings and sections are devoted to radial ball bearings, radial roller bearings, magnetic ball bearings, conical roller bearings, needle shaped roller bearings and others.]
